Dootsie -

I believe we had a most enjoyable time !! - Yours truly will always remember those times in homeroom and English - You know - Barnyard etc. - Well all good things have to end - and this is the end of a good thing ?? - But don't fret - I'm sure that everything you do will be a good thing (knowing you) So be a good little girl in the future (as you have in the past) and keep on loving me -

I'll be seeing you around

"Dossier"

May all the years ahead of you be as bright and happy as you are. There are some things I could mention in here, but I guess it's best they just be remembered. So don't ever forget me or "Swing Swing" and have good luck.

Dear Dootsie,
It's certainly been a long time since I wrote you & I'm glad to hear from you. Hope you know each other & be friends.
Love always,
Barbara Deans

It has been swell
being in homeroom
and English with you.
Don Taylor

Dear Mama,

Don't think that I'm getting old and sentimental by this; just blame it on the absolute humidity.

It's been about four years since we started and now it's all over -- almost that is.) I've met an awful lot of people in these four years, but I can truly say that your personality is among the very best and you have a way with people that can only be described as the "Dootsie" way.

You've been one of the best friends
I've had thru High School -- helping me with projects etc. & you really have in many ways been a mama to me (you fed me enough to anyway)

You said something about our discussion on "A" & "B", but don't forget "C".

Be good Mama & write me at H.K.C., I mean Doot.

Love ya loads
Daddy Crow
Love you

"Dootsie,"
 This year just wouldn't have been worth living for if it hadn't been for you in the Shorthand. You be sweet and still good. Love Patsy
 (Cavanaugh)

It's been grand being in your homeroom class. Too bad it has to end so soon. Good luck.

Well, it's really been swell, hasn't it, kid?
 all those rites + times. Sure did enjoy all that good food over at your house. Too bad you're leaving this year. Will sure miss you.
 Don't forget all the "stings" we've had when you've gone off. Best of luck + success to a swell girl, you really deserve it. See you this summer. Be good if you can!

Ai Dootsie,
 You are one sweet girl - too bad I didn't get to know you as well as I would like to have - Be good and remember me!

Preface

This year the HANOVERIAN is presenting New Hanover High School—yesterday and today. To symbolize the turn of the half-century, we have tried to picture something of the past as a contrast to the people and events that are now contributing to making New Hanover “the best.” We are a new generation who realize the importance of having a good education. This is the spirit with which New Hanover was begun, and this is the spirit which makes us know that no matter which phase of life we may enter, we will be fully prepared. We, as the students before us, are proud to be graduates of New Hanover today.

Hi Dootsie
It has been nice knowing a sweet girl like you. And I hope you all the luck in the world. Don't forget the good times we had in Home room and English class. I hate to say good bye to the good old days because we want to see each other.

Dual Dedication

In harmony with the dual theme of picturing the Past and the Present, this yearbook is featuring a dual dedication. Two members of the faculty who have contributed to maintaining the high standards of the Past and at the same time are endeavoring to elevate our ideals today have been chosen for this honor.

To

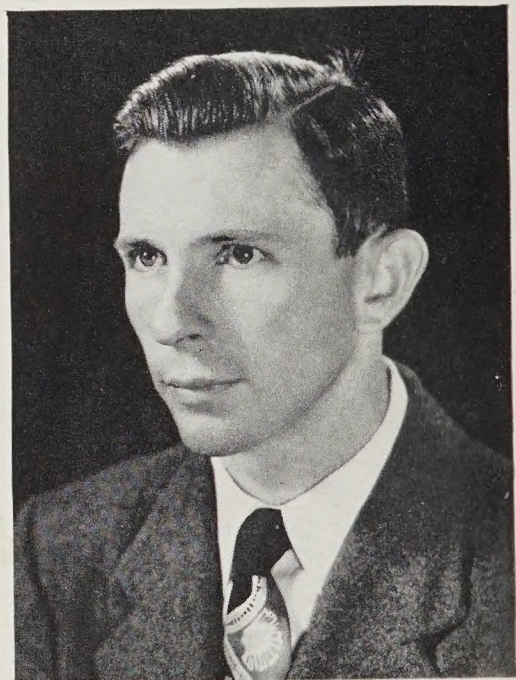

Miss Margaret Williams

for her competent, unselfish, and devoted service to New Hanover High School

And To

Mr. John Lounsbury

for his capable, invigorating and cooperative service to New Hanover High School

*Happy-go-lucky Dorrie - glad to have known you!
I hope you'll really as soon and it was Best wishes,
John Lounsbury*

Hey Nootie Boo -
O.K. then Nootie Boo,
We sure have had some good times here at this old place. Haven't we?
Especially our sophomore year-- Remember--
No stuffy Nootie its been wonderful knowing and being in class with you. Stay real sweet and be good. Best of Everything to you, you sure do deserve it. (Puss)

The School, the Administration, the Faculty

HANOVERIAN=1950

New Hanover High School

1950 = HANOVERIAN

Mr. Dale Kirk Spencer

Within a single year Mr. Spencer has proved to be an efficient principal. Through his untiring efforts and never-ceasing service, he has gained the respect and affection of both students and faculty. Friendly in manner himself, he has brought a new spirit of friendly cooperation to our school. We feel sure that New Hanover High School will continue to grow with him as a leader.

HANOVERIAN=1950

The Administration

MR. MELVIN GUY STAHL

Assistant Principal

An educator who has the happy faculty of being able to blend the long established methods of education with the modern and progressive ideas, Mr. Stahl has endeared himself to the students with his ready advice and willing cooperation. For his efficiency we respect him; for his warmth we call him friend.

Our Deans

Their understanding and sympathetic guidance has made them an indispensable part of our school. To them no problem is too large or small to gain their personal attention, and many a student's school path is made brighter because of their wise advice.

MRS. MEARES HARRISS
Dean of Girls

MR. FRED CAPPS
Dean of Boys

Dear Doctor,
 I have enjoyed having you in the Office these past two year and appreciate the many favours^{did} for me. She will miss you next year. I sincerely hope you have a bright and happy future!

Dear Mother,
 It really been sweet being with you in Texas.
 Here wishing you the best of every thing. Mother, I'm sorry we weren't in any class together this year but then I hope you'll be in the class next year. I'll be glad to see you again. I know you will be very. Next year I wish you all the luck in the world and may you be successful in everything you do. Be good and don't work too hard.

Class History

The test of time has proved the worth of New Hanover High School. It has not only endured the test of time, but also grown, improved, and strengthened. New Hanover is able to meet our needs and demands and offers an ever-present challenge to its inhabitants. This is our school.

It is unbelievable that only four years ago we were eight hundred gangling Freshmen invading the halls of N.H.H.S. Not quite knowing what to expect, we were rather subdued at first; but we soon overcame our timidity and became almost our normal selves. We were slowly acquiring self-confidence as we elected our first class officers. Peggy Benson was the wise choice we made for Freshman President. Serving capably under her were Betty Fletcher and Vivian Seigler, our Vice-President and our Secretary-Treasurer. Occupied by club-joining, party-planning, and Latin conjugations, we slowly settled down into our new, broader life.

As we proudly marched into our Sophomore year, we acquired a deeper appreciation of the high values for which our school stands. Clint Wilson, rising into the limelight where he was destined to remain, was chosen the Sophomore class President. Ted Williams and Shirley Smith served efficiently as our other officers. Dutifully, we admired our boys in their R.O.T.C. uniforms; and with fascination, we watched Tommy Butters diligently shine his shoes in homeroom for inspection. Proudly, we beamed upon Sally Harrison as she walked up on the stage and came back with the coveted Martha Halligan Cup. Frenziedly, we wrote themes, poems, and essays for Miss Walsh. Confusedly, we heard explanations of various and sundry algebra formulas. Delightedly, we made plans for our big dance. Hopefully, with grim and bitter smiles, we survived exams. Perhaps we grew a little wiser that year, for those exams jolted many of us out of our complacent ruts. We learned the hard way that what we gain from high school is up to us.

A bit less cocksure, a bit more cautious, we entered our eventful Junior year. John Sweeney, our President, had scarcely a minute of his own while planning the Junior play, that best-ever Junior-Senior Prom, and the class meetings for our long-anticipated class rings. Nancy Griffith and Becky Lane, his hard-working assistants as Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer, fulfilled their duties in an excellent manner. Gray hairs resulted from work on Prom committees, play programs, and heated class meetings about that parade that never materialized. Brave Priscilla Harriss' lone rushing of the Senior steps and quick descent into the holly bushes, the many self-conscious drivers who had just received their licenses, the spirited campaigning which resulted in the election of Clint Wilson as student-body President and John Furlong as Vice-President, the many times that we said, "Why, why did I ever take Chemistry?"—all of these are vivid memories of our Junior year.

Suddenly, our Senior year was upon us, bringing heavier responsibilities and greater opportunities than many of us had ever had. The excitement aroused by the announcement of R.O.T.C. officers and sponsors, the thrill accompanying the selection of superlatives, and the feebly suppressed grins of the newly inducted National Honor Society members—all this contributed to the general aura of suspense surrounding our Senior year. Under the firm leadership of Johnny Bremer, Marie Covil, and Joyce Rogers, our class officers, we approached graduation with hearts full of poignant memories and deep determination to be a credit to the school which had given us so much.

Last Will and Testament

City of Wilmington

County of New Hanover

We, the Seniors of 1950, being of sound mind, memory and understanding, do hereby will and bequeath our meager possessions, such as they may be, to our heirs in this prescribed manner and form.

First: To the Juniors, we leave all the hard work and good times with deep regret and apologies to the faculty for the times when enjoyment overbalanced work, with the hope that they will be more successful in acquiring these good times than we were.

Second: To the underclassmen, we leave our outstanding record in athletics with the hope that they will equal or even surpass it in the coming years.

Third: To all future Seniors, we bequeath all our material possessions, such as our warmed chairs in Mr. Spencer's office, in hopes that said chairs will be reasonably vacant in future years.

Fourth: To the individuals of the Junior Class, we bequeath these abilities and anything else, not necessarily classified as an ability:

I, Miriam Bowen, leave "a piece of my great mind" to Mary Scott Livingston.

I, Nancy Gallup, leave my "magic fingers" to Barbara Bailey.

I, Clint Wilson, leave my well-known reputation as a politician to Jimmy Fountain.

We, Catherine Post and Priscilla Harriss, bequeath our enthusiastic sense of humor to Kent Millar, to be cultivated as she desires.

I, Barbara Bragg, leave my outstanding dramatic talent to Doris King, that she may "act" accordingly.

I, Marty Millar, leave my second-hand pair of size 14 brogans to "Bull Moose" Dudley Humphrey.

I, Thomas Elliot, leave my well-worn ability of flirting with the girls to Kenneth Murphy in hopes that he will succeed as well as I have.

I, Francis Frederic, leave my excellent physique to Claude King. Don't forget to take it with you always!

I, Clifton Dixon, leave my lustrous curly locks to Fritz Mintz. Self-explanatory.

We, Hampton Sewell, Deanie Hicks, and Tommy Butters, leave our exhausting duck-hunting trips to any boys willing to sacrifice their precious sleep for said trips.

I, Earl Crow, leave my greatly admired ability to keep my pants from parting company with my shirt (many people marvel at my skill) to anyone finding themselves in this precarious position.

We, Ed McPherson and Charles Caudill, leave our unusual vocal talent to Charles Hunnicutt, dubious as to whether he is in need of it.

I, Elaine Warren, leave my envied talent for killing time, in mass murder, to Billy McGlaughon.

I, Randolph Lewis, leave my ability as an organizer to Dicky Holland. How could he fail?

I, Snookie Stone, bequeath my energetic chewing gum exercises (complete with gum), to any daring soul who desires firm pink gums like mine.

In witness whereof, the said Class of '50 do hereunto set our hand and affix our seal.

Signed:

PRISCILLA HARRISS
RANDOLPH LEWIS

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Class of '50, as, for, and to be their last will and testament in the presence of us, who hereunto subscribe our names as witnesses thereof.

Our Executive Council is a strong pillar in student government activities. The members of the Executive Council help to direct the school's varied activities and set up a legislative policy for the school. These eight students are advised by capable members of the faculty. With this guidance and their own clear minds, the Executive Council directs our school's activities.

Legislature

This year the Student Legislature was more active in school life than ever before. The group, composed of a representative from each homeroom and headed by student body President Clint Wilson, met every Thursday in Room 311 to carry on their duties as the law makers of New Hanover High.

Many outstanding projects were carried through this year. A successful dance was sponsored early this year, and the proceeds were used for the legislature's work. A group of benches were placed around the campus for the benefit of all students. The legislature sold name-on stationery before the Christmas holidays.

One of the most outstanding projects was that of familiarizing the students and the faculty with the work of the legislature. Each homeroom representative took a member of his homeroom as a guest every Thursday, and a different faculty member was invited each week. The Legislature held a meeting during a double assembly attended by the whole school February 7-8. The revision of the Constitution was also begun this year.

Student Court Judges

Seated: George Patterson, Margaret Crowe, Clifton Dixon, Tommie Lancaster, Jean Buis. Standing: Earl Crow.

Occasionally some student is guilty of a minor offense. It is the duty of the Student Court Judges to hear his case. After weighing the evidence, the Judges sentence the guilty party accordingly. These Judges form a very important part of our legislative body.

Our school is composed of cooperative students, but in order to make sure that there is no unnecessary confusion or disorder, we have a force of very competent judicial marshals. These must maintain a high scholastic rating and a high principle of citizenship, and may come from either the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, or Senior Class. It is their duty to keep order in the halls and to see that the traffic signals are obeyed.

A stillness fell over the auditorium—faintly but clearly could be heard the voices of angels. As the curtains opened, the voices faded away; and we beheld the mystic Court of Idealism. Four citizens, who represented Character, Leadership, Scholarship, and Service, explained these qualities, after which the citizens of Idealism began tapping new members for the National Honor Society. After taking the oath and signing their names to the roll, the new members had at last achieved one of the highest honors our school affords—membership in the National Honor Society.

CHARACTER SCHOLARSHIP

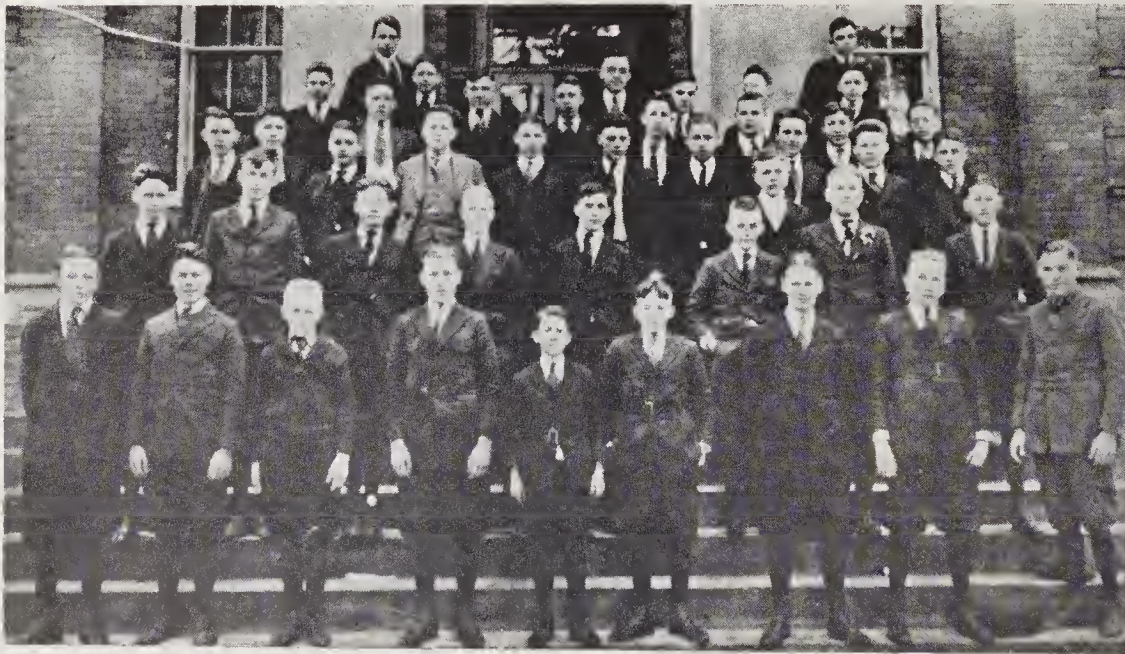

LEADERSHIP SERVICE

Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Organizations

The Girls' Tri-Hi-Y has been recently organized. The separate chapters for Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors induct new members twice a year. The members strive to live up to the ideals of the club: clean speech, clean athletics, clean scholarship, and clean living. Many worthy projects are undertaken by the four chapters.

The Boys' Hi-Y is one of the oldest Hi-Y organizations in the South. Boys are chosen as members of the club on the basis of their leadership, scholarship, and Christian character. Many interesting and beneficial programs are given at the weekly meetings. The ever-popular minstrel is one of the major projects undertaken each year by the club. Last year the minstrel was well received at Carolina Beach as well as in Wilmington. All of these Hi-Y organizations play an important role in the development of character in our school.

Music In New Hanover High School

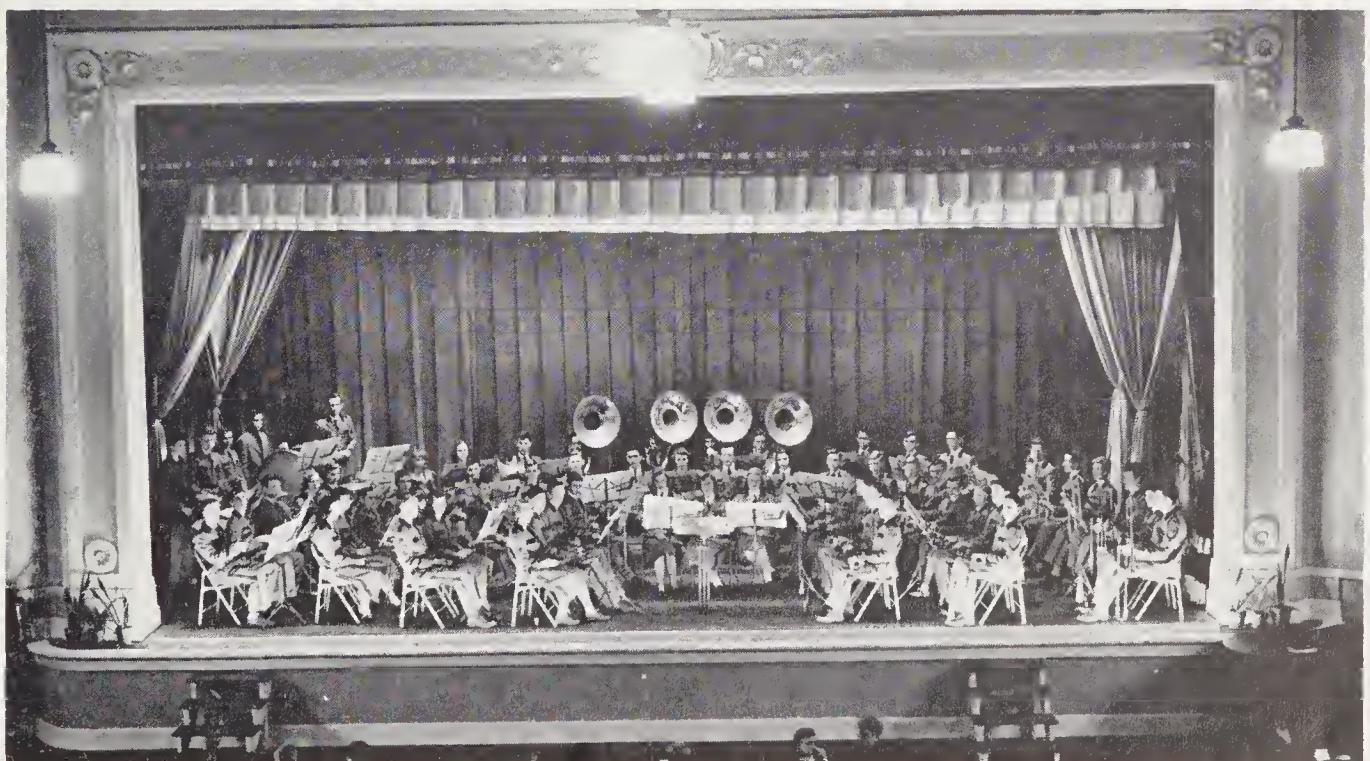

Our Band

The willingness of our band to help on all occasions has made it a fine example of our school's spirit. It has represented us at football games, in the Azalea Festival parades, in the observance of Armistice Day, and on many other occasions. What student can forget the thrilling performance given by the band at half time during the football games? The band ranked with the best of the high school musical groups in North Carolina. One of the oldest organizations in N.H.H.S., it continues to uphold our high standards. It not only adds color and excitement to our school's life, but also offers a good musical training to interested students.

Our Glee Club

The Glee Club is known and appreciated by every New Hanover student. The 1950 club, under the genial direction of Mr. Sam Taylor, has been one of the best yet. An outstanding program, featuring traditional Thanksgiving music as well as many appealing popular songs, was enjoyed by the students previous to the holidays. The Christmas production of the cantata, "Why the Chimes Rang," is becoming a school tradition and was most impressive this year.

In the spring, the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," ran for three performances instead of the usual two. This major endeavor of the Glee Club was certainly an outstanding success. In addition, the club sang for civic clubs, elementary schools, and the commencement exercises, as well as participating in the Azalea Festival. A spring and Easter concert were added to the program of the Choral Group, and the Glee Club itself added an outstanding feature by organizing for the first time a much appreciated "Barber Shop Style" boys' quartette.

During the last few years, and particularly this year, the Dramatics Club has become one of the largest and most progressive clubs in the school. For the first time an honorary Black Maskers' Society was established. Those members whose achievements had been outstanding were introduced into the new society at a candlelight service.

This year's Dramatics Club has upheld a fine record by having interesting productions. Student-directed plays, carried on within the club, were a source of great enjoyment to the members. Among the plays put on for the student body and the public in general, No Count Boy was one of the most successful. Under the guidance of its ever-working sponsors, Miss Grace Robbins and Mr. Alton Finch, the 1950 Dramatics Club was one of which we are justly proud. On the following page is a picture of Dramatics Club activities.

"No 'Count Boy"

On April the eleventh and twelfth a group of advanced dramatic students presented to the student body a play, "No 'Count Boy," by Paul Green. The play, which depicted Southern Negro life, was received with much enthusiasm on behalf of the students. The cast was superb, and the stage set was authentic. The costumes, make-up, and dialect added to the perfection of the play. There were moments of hilarious laughter to accompany those moments of near tears.

The cast was composed of Harriss King, Barbara Bragg, Gene Bane, and Henrietta Hughes. A great deal of credit should go to these people and to their director, Mrs. Grace James, for this outstanding performance.

Government Clubs

Many of the Government classes were organized into clubs which proved to be of much worth to the students. During the semi-monthly meetings their programs were designed to create more interest in the study of government, to improve student relationships, and to carry on projects not generally treated in their regular class. A more active interest in current affairs and a conscious effort to promote the democratic ideals of our nation were evident results of these clubs. One valuable project planned was a survey of New Hanover County to determine the extent of knowledge of current events among the populace.

In the Taxidermy Club the members learn to mount birds, animals, and other types of wild life. During the year they collected specimens for a museum in the school. Their bi-weekly meetings were both profitable and enjoyable. Many students have looked with interest at the Taxidermy Club's life-like mounted animals in their show case by the library entrance.

Library, Art, and Bible

The Library, Arts and Crafts, and Bible Clubs, pictured on this and the following page, are three of the most popular clubs in our high school. The Library Club promotes interest in reading throughout the school, and is one of the largest clubs we have. One of its outstanding projects this year was a Christmas tea, given for the faculty and homeroom chairmen, at which time a display of the newest books was presented. One table was made to appear as a football field and the new sports books were displayed here.

This year with its advisor, Miss Emma Lossen, and its efficient officers, the Arts and Crafts Club definitely progressed in its endeavor to promote interest in art, handicraft, sketching, and weaving. The club members did a great deal of cartooning and painting and very much enjoyed a sketching party of Greenfield Park. Every member has thoroughly benefited by participating in the club's activities this year.

The Bible Club is one of the largest and most widely known clubs in school; it is open to all students, and meets every other Monday. It achieves its purpose, to promote Christian ideals and character, by means of its equally inspiring and informative programs, and its members will long remember their membership in the Bible Club as one of their most rewarding high school experience.

Diversified Occupations

Trade and Industry

The purpose of the Diversified Occupations Group is workers' efficiency and an economical and satisfactory approach toward their work. This organization provides initial employment under the guidance of the school, guarantees employment immediately upon completion of high school, provides a knowledge of the demands of a particular job, develops acceptable business behavior, stimulates a sense of responsibility, and aids in overcoming shyness and lack of confidence.

Office Work

This course is one of the most valuable in the high school curriculum. The students, after attending regular classes a portion of the day, use the remainder of the time for on-the-job-training. In other words, each student holds a position with some business firm with which he works under the beneficial supervision of the club's coordinator, Mrs. Bernice D. Bjonerud. As a result, those who complete this course qualify for a desirable position. Thoroughly trained "D. O." graduates are in much demand.

One event to which the group looks forward was the Bosses' Night Banquet when the employers were guests of the students whom they had helped to train.

Distributive Education

The main purpose of the Port City Distributive Education Club is to acquaint students with problems of retailing. The Future Homemakers of America Club is open to any girl who is interested in becoming a homemaker. The girls, with their advisor, Mrs. Paulson, undertook many projects which were not only beneficial to others but enjoyable and instructional to the girls.

Among these projects were sending boxes overseas, and the making of plans for financing their trip to Raleigh for the annual meeting of their state organization which they call the Spring House Rally.

This year the 4-H Club almost surpassed itself in living up to its motto, "To Make the Best Better." The Club successfully planned and prepared a community buffet supper, presented a dress revue, gave demonstrations in dairy foods and clothing, attended the State short course at Raleigh, prepared its own outstanding float for the annual Azalea Festival, and presented an Achievement Day program at Legion Stadium. In addition to carrying through this memorable program, the 4-H Club was again honored in having one of its members awarded a trip to Chicago. Last year Mary Alice Kerr won a trip to Chicago by being State canning champion. This year the 4-H Club and New Hanover High School are equally proud of Harold Olsen, who was sent to Chicago as winner of the State Citizenship Award.

Language Clubs

Latín Clubs

The Latin Clubs are among the most active in the school. Each Latin class has its own club, designed, primarily, to add interest and enjoyment to the study of Latin. Among the worthy projects which some of these clubs undertook this year was the helping of needy families at Christmas. Their usefulness has been proved by the many years that they have been functioning in N.H.H.S.

French Club

All students who took French II were eligible for membership in the French Club. This club, established for the purpose of promoting fluency in speaking French, was under the capable leadership of Mel Swartz. He conducted all the business meetings in French. Amusing and explanatory programs were prepared by the Vice-President, Gertie B. Myers. These meetings were a great source of interest to the students who took French.

This past year found the Spanish Club enjoying programs about the life, habits, customs and literature of their Spanish speaking neighbors. Each year all the Spanish Clubs join forces in order to put on a Spanish Fiesta. This year the Fiesta, featuring displays on different Spanish speaking countries, was a gala success. The Fiesta is remembered by all as one of the gayest events of the school year.

The Scribblers Club has increased tremendously in membership, enthusiasm, and prominence during this school year. Early in the year, each person was required to submit an original composition in order to become a member. The club members have enjoyed the informative programs and the many interesting speakers; and the Scribblers Magazine, their project, was a big success this year and showed a great deal of writing talent. Under the capable leadership of its officers and its advisor, Mrs. Lassiter, the Scribblers Club this year has successfully fulfilled its purpose of promoting interest in writing.

On the second and fourth Thursday of each month the O. Henry Literary Society met in the auditorium. The club's purpose is to familiarize students with classical and contemporary literature.

The society was established in 1923 by Miss Emma Martin, and since then it has become a prominent organization in the school. Under the guidance of its temporary advisor, Miss Anne Green, and its officers, the society has enjoyed an interesting year. The main project of the club is to conduct a short story contest. This contest is open to all students in the school. Last year the winner's name was engraved for the first time on a silver cup.

What would Freshmen do without the guidance of the Black and Orange Handbook? They would undoubtedly go to the library instead of the cafeteria four times instead of twice, and they would possibly think that the Taxidermy Club manufactures thumb tacks for the faculty.

It is the work of the Handbook Committee to present all school rules and regulations, to furnish a list of clubs and their functions, and to explain the point system to new, as well as old, students. The book must be ready by Freshman Day in the Fall. The committee this year got out an interesting and clearly written edition of The Black and Orange Handbook.

Everybody looked forward to the publication of the telephone directory last fall, and student interest was well rewarded. The directory, a snappy orange edition, featuring a black dial on the front, was very accurately done. The committee worked long and hard to put out this little book which is so helpful to students and teachers alike. The directory came out just in time for all of us to swamp each other with Christmas cards.

Stahl Encourages Students To Take Problems to Teachers

"What courses do you plan to take next year? Why do you plan to take those particular courses? What are you going to do when you graduate? If you're planning to go to college, do you know what you want to pursue? How does one go about applying for a college scholarship?"

Your teachers are interested in helping you to find the answers to these and other questions that should be of interest to you as you plan your future career.

By the time you reach the end of your sophomore year, you should have in mind the type of vocation that you would like to make your life's work and not be content to merely drift along and just get by.

If you have problems that are bothering you, we urge that you

"If you want to know who we are, we are gentlemen of Japan," is the opening phrase of the men's chorus in the comic operetta, "Mikado." It is to be given in February and practices have already begun.

In reference to the operetta, Mr. Sam Taylor said, "I am hoping that this year's performance will be even better than last year's. I am sure that the cast that I have chosen this year will try their best to make 'Mikado' a comic operetta no one will forget. The plot is amusing and complicated, but as in all good plays, everything is finally straightened out."

The Wildcat is published bi-monthly by the Journalism Class of New Hanover High. In Journalism the students are getting a course in writing; content, organization, and style of different types of articles are emphasized. During the second semester the students wrote a research paper, the longer part of which was made up of original material gathered by the students themselves. A great deal of time was spent second semester in polishing the student's style.

The Wildcat

Pictured on the following pages are the three groups which, together with the actual class in Journalism, are responsible for our school paper, The Wildcat. The Wildcat reporters are students who are not actual members of the Journalism class and are, therefore, not members of the staff itself. Without the help of these reporters the campus news could not be adequately covered. News of all types was gathered by these reporters and many of them wrote their own by-line columns. This feature of The Wildcat gave those students who could not fit Journalism into their curriculum a chance to show their talent and to participate in the production of the school paper.

It is the duty of the circulation staff to get the papers from the printers after they leave the press and to deliver The Wildcat to the homerooms on the mornings that the school paper is issued. These are the students actually responsible for getting the papers to the subscribers.

The Wildcat advertising staff takes care of a large part of the financial business of The Wildcat. They can be seen everywhere, getting ads or delivering papers and bills to the advertisers. Their job is a big one. With their hard work and fine cooperation The Wildcat has remained a self-supporting paper.

BUSINESS MANAGER AND EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

SCOTT STRICKLAND, left, as Business Manager, ably performed the herculean task of handling the money for subscriptions and advertisements and of carrying through all the financial work connected with the annual.

RANDOLPH LEWIS, right, proved to be a most competent Editor-in-Chief. By coordinating the staffs and directing the work, he has successfully edited the 1950 Hanoverian. Randolph merits much praise and credit for having accomplished so difficult a task.

BUSINESS STAFF

The Business Staff has been responsible for all money matters. This year's intensive subscription drive produced the limericks in the daily bulletin. This staff put in long and hard hours to keep the annual operating in the black.

FEATURE STAFF

Budd Wilson, as Feature Editor, with Assistant Editors Anne Burnie and Catherine Post, had the responsibility of compiling the Senior activities along with the clever, descriptive phrases. There were weeks of collecting information and long hours of preparing it for the printers. The staff found themselves making and filing almost a complete class history of some three hundred Seniors. Mournful groans were heard during the writing of the Last Will and Testament. When Budd finished all the proofreading, she wondered why she thought this would be fun. No one could have carried on this work any more capably and steadfastly than Budd and her staff, whose tasks were the most trying and tremendous of all.

THE PHOTOGRAPHIC STAFF

Between scheduling pictures and keeping the photographer informed of when, where, and what pictures were to be taken, the photographic staff was kept on its toes. To Photographic Editor Jean Church and to her assistants goes much credit for the competent handling of the many annual pictures.

ART STAFF

All the sketches and arrangements of the pictures were the responsibility of the art staff. Their work speaks for itself as one may easily realize by looking at the artistic page plans and the originality of the volume. Much credit is due particularly to Alice, the art editor, who was generous in giving of her time to the Hanoverian.

TYPING STAFF

To the typists goes the credit for typing all the copy for the Hanoverian. Theirs was a long and tedious task, involving much time and effort. They gave generously of both.

AD STAFF

Many were the rush trips to town made at fifth lunch by the Ad Staff in their efforts to get local business concerns to buy space in the Hanoverian. Their sales talk and diplomatic approach helped to make the annual a financial success.

Hanoverian

The picture below is an example of the many things the Hanoverian staff undertook in its efforts to produce a yearbook in keeping with the high standards of New Hanover High School. This is a scene from the skit written by Bird Grant and Priscilla Harriss, presented by the staff to win the favor and support of the student body. The idea conceived from the work done in selecting the theme, the Past and Present, featured a comparison of this year's superlatives with the superlatives as recorded in the Wilmington High School annual of 1921, The Sandfiddler. Randolph Lewis, Bird Grant, and Elaine Smith had the leading roles, while the other staff members, identified below, assumed the personalities of the 1921 superlatives. This shows how versatile the yearbook staff were.

Many pleasures such as this skit, much difficulty, many monotonous details, many exciting moments, some differences of opinion, much discussion, many resulting agreements—all were involved in the publication of the 1950 Hanoverian. The staff hopes that it will bring as much pleasure to its readers as it did to its writers.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a division of the North Carolina Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. Its objectives are to promote such programs of athletic activities as will meet the needs of all girls, and to stress enjoyment of sport and the development of sportsmanship and character rather than the breaking of records or the winning of championships. Membership is open to any girl who has earned fifty points from sports activities and who has passed a physical examination during the past year.

This year the Girls' Athletic Association met every third Thursday in the month. The Association encouraged New Hanover's girls to participate in organized team sports as well as in individual sport. Awards were made for the accumulation of points. Some of the many activities of the girls' physical education department are shown on these pages.

Student Instructors

These student instructors are selected on the basis of character, leadership, and ability. They must have had two years of previous physical education. It is their duty to assemble equipment for the gym classes, to check baskets, and to assist in all activities, both during their class period and in the afternoon sports program. They do this mainly for the pleasure they derive from this work. They receive no school credit, but they are rewarded with points toward the school monogram.

In 1949-50 New Hanover had the loudest and most loyal cheering section in many a year. Particularly during the football season much comment on the depth and precision of student cheers could be heard. The strength of the cheering section was due largely to the leadership of our cheerleaders. Rain or fair, hot or cold, win or lose, the cheerleaders continued to inspire the school spirit for which Wilmington is rapidly becoming noted. Led by their cheerleaders, students followed the Wildcats whenever and wherever possible. When the boys needed to dig in, the cheerleaders were right behind them. The spirit, energy, and gaiety of our cheerleaders was more than evident this year; and the Class of '50 will always remember that spunky exuberance of the girls and boys in black and orange and white.

Football

Bright night lights at the stadium, crowds, peanuts, last minute trips to support the "Cats" in other cities: all these things bring back the '49-'50 football season. The Wildcats were a good team this year. When hot, they could not be beaten. For the second straight year they downed New Hanover's arch rival, Raleigh. Students followed the winning team to a snappy victory in Goldsboro, and then were disappointed in Wilson when that team downed the "Cats" 7-6. None of us will forget Charlie Niven's 90-yard touchdown run that was called back because of a penalty! The Durham game was one of our greatest. The boys hung on doggedly to tie the destined-to-be champions 7-7. The Wildcats were the first team to score on the Bulldogs in 1949. With some of the steam taken out of them, the Wildcats then played their most disappointing game of the year, losing 7-13 to our bitter foe, Fayetteville.

Win or lose, we followed our team loyally and with pride. We shall always remember the 1949 team as a great one. We shall remember Charlie Niven's long runs, Pat Harrington's rugged playing, Goodson in his face guard, smashing through the line, and big Francis Fredere, who brought singular honors to himself and to the school by being the only North Carolina player to make the National High School All-America team. The Class of '50 had a team to remember.

Basketball

Through the noise and excitement of a thrill-packed gym the Wildcats surged forth victorious. At the time the annual went to press the New Hanover High School cagers were 'way out front in conference standing. Sparked by the floor work of Cecil Heath and Jere Hilburn the 'Cats downed the expected champs, Raleigh. Many Wildcat fans, unable to attend out-of-town games, tuned in on the radio and heard Marion Hales, Francis Fredere, and Charles Niven rack up large numbers of points.

The 'Cats in a pre-season tournament at High Point finished in second place out of all the invited teams of the State.

Below are the scores of the games

Swimming Team

The swimming team is fast becoming one of the important sporting groups in our high school. Due to the high interest the team has become proficient in speedy teamwork, and has reflected much credit upon itself and New Hanover High School.

The team had many out-of-town meets. Some of the cities they visited were Fayetteville, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Cherry Point, and Camp Lejeune. They also attended the All-Southern Interscholastic Meet at Duke University. The team finished in second place in the Southeastern United States Interscholastic Meet at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia.

Row 1: Pete Dannenbaum, Eric Oertel, Fritz Oertel, Leroy Lanier.

Row 2: Tommy Covington, Joe Wilkens, Sammy McMillan, Ronnie Schultz.

Row 3: Ken Wooten, Louis Leiner, Bobby Clark, Smith Jewell, Bill Baldwin, Adam Smith.

Tennis

Kneeling: Charles Hunnicutt, Johnny Bremer, Gene Witherspoon.

Because of such a rising demand for the minor sport, tennis, steps toward organizing a tennis team have recently been made. The main responsibilities of leadership were left to last year's student coach, John Bremer, who was assisted by a professional player. For many years now, this sport has had practically no recognition from the high school. It is now fast becoming one of our most popular sports and one of which the high school is very proud.

This year's tennis team has shown many possibilities. With such capable netters as John Bremer, Gene Witherspoon, Jack King, Roddie Cameron, Jimmy Gallagher, and Jimmy Tabb, the team soared to many victories. Matches with Raleigh, Goldsboro, and other towns were scheduled, and the playing began in March. Future prospects indicate that tennis in New Hanover High School will have a definite and important place in the realm of sports.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

The Reserve Officers Training Corps is one of the largest organizations in the school. On any Monday or Friday morning one could hear the stirring music of the band as the cadets paraded out to Thirteenth and Ann Streets. On the field the corps had battalion ceremonies and reviews which showed the excellent training they had received in drill, leadership, discipline, and manual of arms.

During classroom periods the cadets studied Military History, Military Teaching Methods, Maps and Aerial Photographs, First Aid, Combat Formations, and the construction of different individual weapons which are used in combat.

During classroom period on Mondays the cadets drilled, and on Friday an inspection of the companies was held. Honor cadet inspection was also held on Friday. Being named distinguished cadet of the week is one of the highest honors a cadet can receive and a notice of the distinction is placed in his record for future use in selecting officers.

The New Hanover High School Reserve Officers Training Corps was established in 1937 and has received an honor rating during all twelve years of its existence.

The Student Legislature elects ten social marshals for varied and important duties associated with all social functions held during the school year. This year the marshals collected tickets, distributed programs, and rendered many valuable services which contributed to the success of student activities. Dances, which were sponsored by the legislature, were a chief concern of the social marshals, as they attended to the management and decoration of these dances. Who will forget, for example, the 1950 Gay Nineties Dance, which was evidence of the social marshals' work and their originality.

Dear "Dootsie":

Golly - just think, school is actually over - and it has been so much fun!! I'll never forget all the good times we have had these past 4 years.
Remember that Saturday afternoon after I took that exam - that beautiful green Plymouth, and especially what was in it??? I don't believe we could ever forget that "cute" face - reckon?? Then there were all those "exciting" times over at your house!! Poor Burlak really went through a lot!! I was real sorry that you couldn't go on that houseparty - but I just reckon there will be many more to raise heck on!! Honestly Dootsie, you're one of the best kind of friend anybody could have! Always stay just like you are and I'll always keep loving you - Cackie

Dear Dootsie - I do have enjoyed being in

Dear "Dootsie",

Well, now that the year is almost over, it sure is sad, isn't it? Not for you maybe, but it sure is for me. What will I do next year when you aren't around? Any suggestions? I guess you just think I'm trying to be nice or something, but honestly you don't know how much it has meant for me to be able to go home with you. I really do appreciate all the things you've done for me and I doubt if I can ever say just how much I do. But I hope you know what I mean. We sure have had fun going to League and "messing around" afterwards, haven't we. Remember all the times we rode by 3rd. and Red Cross? Ah-hub--- I won't waste all the rest of the page where the rest of your friends can write, so I'll quit. I just want you to know that I think you're one of the best friends I've ever had, and I hope you'll continue to be.

Love,

Billy (Mrs. Blumhox)
